PRESS RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: 06/30/2021

Opening on July 17: Insurgent: The Paintings of Clark Fox

On Saturday, July 17th, from 5-8PM, Five Points Museum of Contemporary Art will host the opening of a new exhibition by internationally renowned painter Clark Fox.

A Texas native, also known as Michael Clark, Fox spent much of his childhood in Houston and South Texas before moving to New York. Fox is an intensely prolific painter, and this exhibition draws upon select works from pointillist Texas landscapes to confrontational pop art satire. Insurgent: The Paintings of Clark Fox features his paintings of American presidents, especially his panoptic study of George Washington, as well as his assessments of social structures and economics in his ever-growing studies of oranges and Mr. Peanut as avatars of class and racial inequity.

Clark Fox is the first painter to have a solo show at Five Points Museum of Contemporary Art since the museum opened in 2016. His works are in the public collections of the National Gallery of Art, the Smithsonian American Art Museum, the Metropolitan Museum of New York, the Corcoran Gallery, and many more.

The opening reception July 17th will feature live music as well as light refreshments. This exhibit is curated by Ann Harithas, the museum's founder and executive director.

Five Points Museum of Contemporary Art is located at 1201 North Moody in Victoria, TX and is open to the public 12-5pm Wednesday through Sunday. Admission at the museum is always free. For event information please contact: Maggie Kuykendall, Media Contact at 361-894-2153.
